

David Holden was born in Buffalo in 1964. After studying materials technology at Cornell University, he completed his MBA at INSEA Business School. Afterwards he worked in various companies as an engineer and manager, such as Thomson, Pix Tech, Robert Bosch GmbH, Advanced Vision Technologies and Xerox. In 2002, he moved to CEA (Commissariat à l'Énergie Atomique) and, as Marketing Manager, was responsible for opening Minatec in Grenoble.